The main focus of our conversation this Friday will be the materials to be presented to the Sampling Workgroup next Wednesday, August 31. The documents listed below are all posted on PREmis and materials presented to / discussed with the Workgroup will be derived from them. Specifically, we'll be addressing the rationale for and tentative selection of high-resolution coring locations, along with a preparatory push core program we intend to implement next week, with analysis of core tops for Be-7 to help refine/confirm locations. We'll also be addressing the initial water column program and its rationale. We will be eager to hear any comments you may have on the current plans and suggestions for our planned discussion with the Workgroup.

Remember, the Workgroup consists of various agency and stakeholder representatives, including the PRPs. Also, please keep in mind that the next phase of geochemical analysis of historical data has not yet taken place, but will be initiated within the next few weeks once we receive funding...once that has been done, and with the data from the upcoming field program, we will be in position to make our next update of the CSM.

The status call on Friday will take place using the following call-in information:

Telephone: (888) 737-5834

Passcode: 577654#

Please let me know if you have any questions. We're looking forward to our conversation on Friday.
